Growth and Prosperity of Virginia Division, U. D. C., Shown.

SECOND DAY OF SESSION

Various Forms of Delightful Entertainment for Visiting Delegates.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Harrisonburg, Va., October 10.—Reports of officers and committees showing the marvelous growth and prosperity of the Virginia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was the feature of the business sessions to day and yesterday. This afternoon more than 200 delegates visited Ashby Monument and Massanutten Springs. To-night Major J. Ogden Murray, of Charles Town, W. Va., addressed the delegates on "Peerless Women of the South."

Favored by perfect weather, the daily sessions have been attended by large crowds from town and county, including a good many Confederate veterans.

The second day of the seventeenth annual State convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy opened this morning in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian Church. Prayers were offered by Rev. H. H. Sherman, of the Harrisonburg Methodist Church, after which the morning was turned over to the hearing of the committees.

The annual report of Mrs. A. A. Campbell, of Wytheville, the State president, was instructive. Twelve new chapters located and organized during the year are as follows: Galax, Jonesville, Big Stone Gap, Silver-Lee, Norton and Saltville, in First District; Keyville, in Second; Stonewall, Portsmouth, Armistead Goode, Chase City, Nettoway and Crews, in the Third; Lee Chapter, at Richmond, and Hahover, at Ashland, in the Fifth; Lancaster Chapter, at Mouluk, in the Sixth; Emory and Powhatan, in the seventh. Eleven of the above are in new territory. Three chapters revived are Fairfax, Black Horse and Rappahannock.

Mrs. Campbell dwelt on the Confederate Museum at Richmond. The museum fund is increased to $60. Only half of the chapters (forty) have contributed to the year book. All the Virginia minutes are in the book except the year 1900. The Virginia division scholarship at State Normal School at Farmville is filled for the first time. Auxiliary chapters are gaining in favor. The crowning achievement of the year was the appropriation of $2,500 by the

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism.
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years. It kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." State Legislature for needy Confederate women.

Mrs. J. R. K. Bell, the State registrar, is engaged in the great work of preparing a new roster. This year 8,965 names are on the book, an increase of several thousand. There are 133 chapters on the Virginia roster, of these, Halifax, No. 4, reorganized; Cumberland, disbanded; Governor William Smith, not recorded; Pittsburgh, not recorded; M. K. Anderson, merged; Emporia, merged; Eastern Shore, inactive, and Montgomery, merged, nine numbers to drop in all, leaving 124 enrolled chapters. Eleven new chapters have been added to roster.

Mrs. S. A. Riddick, the State treasurer, submitted a detailed report of receipts and disbursements during the year, showing a balance in treasury now of $1,514.53 against a balance of $556.50 last year. The expenditures during the year included the sum of $100 towards a monument to the late Senator John W. Daniel.

Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, associate chairman of the Confederate Museum, made a report on the Virginia room of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society. She announced a new plan for the support of this room. Interest of assessing each chapter $1, each chapter is invited to become a life member, the fee being $10. Two life members have been received already. Mrs. Elyson told of the wonderful accumulation of Confederate relics, making it almost necessary to have two rooms. Among the 2,000 relics is the last ration of coffee at Appomattox.

Mrs. N. V. Randolph, chairman of the relief committee, told of battle before the last State Legislature in getting an appropriation of $2,500 for needy Confederate women. At present sixty-seven needy women are getting $2 a month. More could be used. Mrs. Randolph noted the fact that Lee Camp Auxiliary gave over $35,000 in relief in twenty years. She rejoiced that the State division had taken up the work.

There is great interest in the decision of the convention to petition the national convention in Washington next month to extend the time for conferring crosses of honor another year and appoint two days for presentation.

The continual requests for crosses makes this step necessary. This afternoon scores of automobiles and vehicles carried the visiting women and many people of the town on a trip to the monument of General Turner Ashby, two miles southeast of town, on the spot where the beloved Ashby fell in battle. The local chapter is named the Turner Ashby Chapter in honor of the Valley hero. After viewing the monument the party then drove to Massanutten Springs, four miles to the east, a famous resort, on which a magnificent 100-room hotel has just been completed.

The visit to the State Normal School was a feature of the week. President and Mrs. Julian A. Burgess received the delegates. Refreshments were served and the visitors were escorted by students to the manual arts class, where lessons in sewing and cooking were in progress. Work in the gymnasium was also viewed.

COMPROMISE AGREED UPON.
Southern Will Pay Members of Harris Family Sum of $5,000.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Charlottesville, Va., October 10.—In the Circuit Court to-day, in the case of Charles E. Harris and wife and little grandson, Charles Russell Harris, against the Southern Railway, for damages in a railway accident, a compromise verdict was agreed upon. The amounts awarded were: Mrs. Josephine Harris, $3,000; Charles Russell Harris, aged nine, $1,500; Charles E. Harris, $500.

The accident, out of which the suit grew, occurred October 31 last at a Southern Railway crossing one mile south of Goochville, this county, near which place Mr. and Mrs. Harris were going to attend a funeral. The buggy in which the trio were riding was struck by a southbound freight. The horse was killed instantly and the buggy shattered, the occupants being thrown along the side of the track, where they were picked up, unconscious. Mrs. Harris had a leg fractured and suffered a slight concussion of the brain. The boy's bladder was ruptured and an operation was necessary. Mr. Harris had an ugly scalp wound.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ACCUSED BY MANN

Nephew of Governor Makes Charges Against Lunenburg District Board.

SUPERINTENDENT INVOLVED

Official Summoned to Appear. Pensioners Must Submit to Examination.

Charges were made before the State Board of Education, in session at the Capitol yesterday, by Dr. Edwin M. Mann against the trustees of Brown's Store School District, in Lunenburg County. Many reports were filed as exhibits, and the specifications are numerous.

In the accusations is involved Isham T. Wilkinson, division school superintendent of Lunenburg County. It is stated by Dr. Mann, and the charge is corroborated by school teachers, that the superintendent has failed to comply with the provision of the school law which requires him to visit every school at least once a year, and in counties with the number of schools now in Lunenburg, twice a year.

After giving consideration to Dr. Mann's charges, the board summoned Mr. Wilkinson to appear before it at the next meeting and to make answer.

Bad Sanitary Conditions.
Apparently the most serious charge made by Dr. Mann, is that the trustees have failed to observe the law promulgated by the State Board of Health. Of the fifty-five schoolhouses in Lunenburg County, assets Dr. Mann, only thirteen are properly equipped. Not one of the twenty-five colored schools is equipped.

The State Board of Education gave notice of its time to consideration of this problem, which it feels is most serious.

It is stated that the question of money is serious, and that it costs at least $10 to a school to comply with the demands of the health department. Realizing that the matter must be dealt with, the board at last determined that State school funds shall be withheld from all counties which do not comply with the law in this regard within a reasonable time. By this drastic method, all are expected to come to time.

Other Business of Board.
All the members of the board were present save Superintendent Eggleston and Attorney-General Williams. The resignation of Hugh S. Bird as superintendent of the schools of Fredericksburg was accepted, and E. F. Hirschhead, Jr., principal of that city school, was elected to succeed him for the unexpired term.

There was some discussion of the pension law. Under the new act, there must be a medical examination every three years of those pensioned because of physical disability. A resolution was adopted that as each pensioner reaches the three-year limit from the time of the beginning of his annuity he shall be examined by a physician, and that he shall be re-examined every three years thereafter.

Many Accusations Made.
Dr. Mann, who is a nephew of Governor Mann, has many items of complaint. He makes the sanitary question very prominent. Then, he says, one of the young women teachers could not get an abs. from school to take care of her child, unless she went to Kenbridge for it. One school was reported to be closed two hours earlier than it should be, and, says Dr. Mann, it was never investigated.

In 1907 a picnic was pulled off at Kenbridge, to which some families were invited, and others were left out. A school warrant for $50, it is charged, was made out in favor of the person who furnished the provisions, the inference being that some

Headwig, Ga.—"I suffered untold agonies for five or six years with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Della Long, of this place. "Could not sit up but a few minutes at the time, and if I stood on my feet long, would faint."

I took $5.00 worth of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it did me $50.00 worth of good. I can do my work now all the time, and suffer but very little.

I am recommending Cardui to my friends, and shall continue to do so. You may use this letter in any way you wish."

Its 50 years of wonderful success proves that, as a tonic for weak women, you could find nothing of greater benefit to you than Cardui. It is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women made especially for women, from ingredients which act specifically on the womanly organs and thus help to build up the womanly constitution.

You are urged to try Cardui if you are weak, tired, nervous, worn-out or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging pains, pains in side, and other symptoms of womanly trouble.

Judging from the experience of thousands of others, Cardui is sure to help you.

This Girl Recovered From Consumption

The makers of Eckman's Alternative, which has been much used for Consumption, are continually in receipt of wonderful reports of recoveries brought about solely through the use of this medicine. These reports are always at the command of one interested, and many of the writers in their gratitude have suggested that like before write direct of the kind this year.

"I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering from 'consumption'."
(Sworn Affidavit) ETTA PLATH.
(Five years later reports still well.)
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all other respiratory troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. At best, it is a natural, safe, and reliable remedy. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.—Advertisement.

parties had a good time at the expense of the school funds.

Again, says Dr. Mann, the law was violated which forbids any school official having an interest in a school contract. He says, and claims to prove by a letter, that Thomas Tisdale, the contractor for the Kenbridge school, bought some weather boarding from Willie Bridgeforth, a member of the trustees, and that carpenter work was done by Collin Bagley, clerk of the board.

Behind With Money Due State.
On April 25 of this year, according to a letter from Section Auditor Russell Page to Dr. Mann, two of the districts of Lunenburg County were behind on payments of principal and interest of money borrowed from the literary fund for school purposes. Mr. Page then said that these districts were among the very few in the State which had made default in payments. No request was made of the county school board. Dr. Mann is informed, however, that a special tax to take care of these debts. But he is informed some interest has been paid and a new agreement made with the State since April.

In 1907, continue the charges, the sum of $139.50, which was unexpended, was held by the county on a device, instead of being returned to the State as provided by law. Also, some money was paid to a teacher named Mann, which the chairman has been behind with these transactions are mixed up a settlement between two districts, for students from one taught in a school in the other, and the division superintendent, in a report, set forth how it was planned to keep the surplus money in the county instead of returning it to the State.

Pleas for Small School.
In a letter which accompanies his formal charges, Dr. Mann makes a plea for the little one-roomed schools. He says that they have been neglected and order to care for the consolidated schools. The result is that poor men have to sell their holdings and go to towns to educate their children, while negroes buy their farms. In Brown's Store District, says Dr. Mann, the trustees ran things to suit themselves, and he could get no satisfaction from them.

The ten tells of his experience with other parties. He wanted to go before the grand jury, he says, and tell his troubles, but the attorney for the Commonwealth—N. S. Turnbull, Jr., a son of the Fourth District Congressman—declined to permit him to do so. Later the sheriff allowed him to see the jury. That body decided to indict, the charges say, but Mr. Turnbull had not time to draw the paper that day, so he explains in a letter. A warrant was later made out and served on the trustees, and Dr. Mann said it was made out on the minor charge, which permitted no penalty, instead of on the major charge. The charges of Dr. Mann reflect rather severely on the Commonwealth's attorney.

Mr. Turnbull Explains.
In his letter Mr. Turnbull says that as the case was one of indifference, anyway, it was just as effective to make out a warrant before a justice of the peace as to find an indictment, since it would be tried before the justice in any event.

Finally, there is a statement from J. G. Blackwell, justice of the peace, who tried the case against the trustees on the charge of not providing sanitary equipment. He found the guilty, but at the request of the State Board of Health, he imposed no fine.

Dr. Mann asks that all these things be investigated. The State Board of Education made a move as to the division superintendent by summoning him before it, and it began the matter of sanitary arrangements by requiring all of the thousands of schoolhouses in the same condition with those described by Dr. Mann to be properly equipped.

Regarding all charges save those referring to the division superintendent, the State board can take no action. It has no authority whatever over school trustees, who are answerable to local courts for misfeasance or malfeasance. The board will take up the charges against the superintendent.

MONTAGUE TAKES STUMP FOR TYERS

Former Governor Will Spend Next Week Campaigning

Five appointments for public speaking at the more important points in the Ninth Virginia District, have been arranged for former Governor Andrew Jackson Montague. He will leave this city Monday night, and spend the week campaigning in the mountain country for Wilson, Marshall and Ayres.

Governor Montague, who draws good sized crowds in the Southwest, he is well known. On the day of the nomination of General Ayres, last March, the former Governor tendered him any services which it might be in his power to extend. It is now desired to have a series of rallies, with Mr. Montague as the speaker.

He will go direct to Bristol, on the Tennessee line, where he will deliver the first speech Tuesday night, in the Harmon Theatre. The next morning he will start east, stopping at Marion, Smyth County, where he will speak Wednesday night. Next he will go to

Wytheville, for a speech Thursday night.

From Wytheville, Governor Montague will take an early start and drive twenty-two miles across two mountains to reach Blaine Courthouse. At 1 o'clock Friday afternoon he will speak there. He will have another long drive and a ride on a lumber road to reach Pearisburg, Giles County, where the last speech of the series will be delivered at noon Saturday. A night train can be caught at Pearisburg, which will bring him back in Richmond early Sunday morning.

STUDENTS WILL BE PLACED ON TRIAL

Prominent Counsel in Case Growing Out of Death of Freshman by Hazing.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Hillsboro, N. C., October 10.—Although its court records of the past is a revelation of numerous criminal and civil proceedings of State-wide concern, embracing a period of a century or more, the courthouse at Hillsboro (a village so rich in historic lore) is, during next week, destined to be the scene of the criminal trial of the four sophomores of the State University at Chapel Hill, charged with the killing of "Billy" Rand, of Smithfield, in the early morning hours of September 13, that bids fair to eclipse all former criminal proceedings. The trial will be strikingly unique in the first instance, because it will go on record in North Carolina as the first death-blow at the immemorial custom of hazing, in the second instance, the case will excite more than State-wide notice, because of the prominence of all the parties involved and of the promising young man who was claimed as its victim; lastly, the brilliant array of counsel employed to wage the trial will add decided prominence to the case.

The list of attorneys shows the names of men that have prestige wherever they have occasion to be mentioned and the strong personnel of counsel will attract crowds to witness the trial of Ralph W. Oldham, of Raleigh; A. C. Hatch, of Mount Olive; W. L. Merriman, of Wilmington; and A. H. Styron, of Wilmington, all charged with manslaughter. A partial list of the attorneys follows: For Arthur H. Styron, of Wilmington, the law firm of Keenan & Stacy, and Louis Goodman of Wilmington; for W. L. Merriman, of Wilmington; J. O. Carr and George Rountree, of Wilmington; Stern & Duncan, of Greensboro; for Ralph W. Oldham, of Raleigh, A. C. Hatch, of Mount Olive, Victor S. Bryant and W. J. Brogren, of Durham, and Lawyer Welsberg, of Durham will also appear for Hatch. The prosecuting attorney for the State, Solicitor S. M. Gattis, will be assisted in prosecuting the four boys by E. J. Justice and E. D. Broadhurst, of Greensboro, and J. A. Wallons, of Smithfield. Other counsel have been mentioned, among the names being A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro; C. W. Tillet, of Charlotte, and J. W. Graham, of Hillsboro, but these names have not as yet been confirmed.

Solicitor S. M. Gattis stated a few days ago with some confidence that no intimation had come to him to the effect that a postponement or removal to another county would be asked for. Consequently, the trial will come in its order on the calendar at the convening of court next week, the first day of court coming on Monday, October 14.

The annual meeting of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company was held to-day at 12 o'clock noon. More than 400 members of the capital stock of the company were represented in person or by proxy.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. Samuel R. John P. Green, of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Joseph Wood and D. T. McCabe, of the Pennsylvania lines.

The stockholders authorized the purchase of the railroad property and franchises of the Columbus Connecting and Terminal Railroad Company, and elected the following directors: Joseph I. Doran, Victor Morawetz, Walter H. Taylor, John P. Green, Samuel R. John, E. Johnson, William G. MacDowell, Henry C. Fryck, Joseph Wood, W. W. Atterbury and N. D. Maher.

Following the stockholders' meeting the board of directors met and ordered the election of the following officers:

President—E. Johnson.
First Vice-President—William G. MacDowell.
Second Vice-President and General Manager—N. D. Maher.

Third Vice-President and Traffic Manager—T. S. Havant.
